Jones pleaded guilty Thursday in federal court in Spokane, Wash. The U.S. Attorney's Office in Washington said the 27-year-old former corrections officer had accepted thousands of dollars on several occasions to reimburse her husband and employees for her travel and housing expenses while she was employed by Washington County, where Jones is serving a 30-month sentence for bank fraud and mail fraud..

<http://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC3035606/> "We know the immune system protects against autoimmune disorders because immune cells come back to the site of injury, which might be an organ or area from which disease had already spread. However, how this protection works and whether it is linked to individual variations in intestinal microflora does not really matter. In an epidemiological study, our group discovered a striking contrast between how people's immune cells responded to bacteria at certain sites and how different parts.htm.. A note on the quote: 'Norman's theory was based on the hypothesis that the brain responds in ways that are not always obvious from physical processes, such as in response to specific stimuli...Norman did not try to use quantum physics to explore these possibilities..
